PEANUT BUTTER RECALL

On Jan. 10, we were notified that King Nut, an independent supplier of peanut butter to certain distributors that provide peanut butter to a limited number of Cold Stone franchisees in Arizona, Idaho and North Dakota, was the focus of an investigation by the FDA and other regulatory agencies concerning a recent Salmonella outbreak. We responded immediately by removing all King Nut peanut butter from use in all applicable stores until further information is known, as the safety and welfare of our customers is Cold Stone Creamery's top concern. We have requested all applicable stores to immediately substitute any commercial brand peanut butter. We are cooperating with appropriate public health agencies, taking every measure possible to ensure our customers' well being.
